HUNGARIANS OUSTED

Vienna, Dec. 6 (INS)—Two thousand Hungarian men and women, young and old, sick and well, and some of them blind and halt, have been expelled from Yugoslavia during the last 24 hours. They have been swept across the border, joining some 10,000 others thrown out of Yugoslavia during the last six weeks, one of the most dramatic aftermaths of the assassination of King Alexander at Marseilles.

AGAIN CHAINED ON STREET

Paintsville, Ky., Dec. 6 (INS)—Paintsville's three "conscientious objectors" to working out their fines today were again pilloried on the town's busiest street intersection, chained with heavy iron chains to iron posts and to heavy iron balls. Crowds yesterday showed sympathy with the three countless men and chairs were provided for them. Today, however, when the explanation had gone around that the men refused to work as the other prisoners do, there was less feeling against the police action. A deadlock between the youths, who laughingly said they didn't plan to do a "lick of work," and Police Judge R. A. Patrick appeared certain today when the judge said that he would order the punishment continued.

ARMY TO PROTECT SAAR

Geneva, Dec. 6 (INS)—An armed force of from 4,500 to 5,000 troops will keep peace in the Saar Basin as the residents ballot for their future national allegiance in January. "Knox's army," it was authoritatively predicted today, will exceed by far the 1,200 that Geoffrey Knox, head of the League of Nations' Saar Governing Commission, felt would be sufficient to maintain order. The increase, it was understood, was decided upon after the delegates to the League Council had conferred with their home governments and with their army general staffs. Britain and Italy, it was believed, would furnish 2,000 troops each, Belgium 500, and Holland would stand by with a small contingent of sailors.

LARGEST PRIME NUMBER

Chicago, Dec. 6 (INS)—Dr. Samuel I. Krieger today announced to the world that he had calculated and proved the largest known prime number, one that is divisible only by itself or one. It has 78 digits and here it is: 231,548,178,474,632,990,847,141,970,017,375,815,706,539,989,331,281,128,078,915,168,015,826,259,279,871. Doctor Krieger is the originator of several formulas for rapid calculation.

66 BOLSHEVIKS ARE SHOT

Moscow, Dec. 6 (INS)—More executions within the next few days appeared certain today as police, following the shooting of 65 men and one woman "counter revolutionaries," pressed their campaign to wipe out every enemy of the Bolshevik regime. All their property was ordered confiscated by the state. This was believed to be the largest number executed at one time in Russia since the Revolution in 1918.

The initial play of the season, "The Watched Pot" by Sakl, presented a comedy followed by George B. Baker's "Fransiska Da Rimini," a tragedy. Continuing the versatility of production and acting, the new play is a straight drama.

The cast of "Lady Windermere's Fan" includes 26 members, as well as others who will guests at the ball in the second act.

The production staff, necessary to complete the fineness of any successful production, has been done itself this year in quality and quantity of service. The stage manager, Malcolm Shotwell, is aided by ten university students. Wallace Difford, who is in charge of lights, has two assistants.

Edna Brumagen, head of properties, is directing ten students in making the furniture for the opening play. Six girls help Mildred Schaffner in attending to costumes. The new advertising head, Mrs. Carol Ball, is supervising the work of eight students, while publicity is handled by two.

The orchestra, directed by John Lewis, is composed of about ten musicians, while the same number of ushers are used during the week of the play.

Next semester's production will include the prize play, chosen from the annual manuscripts submitted to Guignol. This year's play will deal with American Indian life.

Coach Chet Wynne, Coach Adolph Rupp, Captain Joe Rupert, and captains Tucker and Lawrence were honored at a dinner-dance given by the Frankfort Alumni association at the University of Kentucky last night at the Capital Hotel in Frankfort. JUNIOR LEAGUE WILL GIVE DANCE

Child Guidance Service to Receive Benefits in Initial Step of Drive for $1,200

VANCE WILL PLAY

With a dance in the Alumni gym tomorrow night, the Lexington Junior league will launch its drive to raise a total sum of $1,200, which is to be used in carrying on the University Child Guidance service, under the direction of Dr. G. B. Dimmick.

This dance, for which Johnny Vance's orchestra will furnish the music, is a regular University affair and will be attended by students as well as townspeople.

The guidance service is a joint project of the Junior League and the University. It is financed entirely by the League, and some 25 League workers assist Doctor Dimmick and Mrs. Ratcliff in carrying on the work.

The purpose of the service is to correct socially mal-adjusted cases among children, usually between the ages of 10 and 18. The cases are reported from the juvenile court, Family Welfare society, the public schools, and from parents and guardians. Mental examinations are given and every effort is made to discover the basic cause of the mal-adjustment. Then a plan of treatment is evolved, after which the cases are closely contacted and followed up.

Musical Season Inaugurated By Violin Recital

Toscha Seidel, recognized as one of the world's leading violinists, inaugurated the Central Kentucky Community Concert association's winter musical season with his recital at Memorial hall last night.

Studying under the master Leopold Auer, Seidel is one of the most brilliant violinists of that distinguished line of musicians. Critics declare that the encores called forth by his playing are flattering in the last degree, and yet, they are not over-superlative.

Seidel has been acclaimed not only in the United States and Europe, but also in Australia, New Zealand, Honolulu, France, England, and the Scandinavian countries. Born in Russia, Seidel came to America immediately after the war, taking his place in the foremost ranks of contemporary violinists. His immediate success has been attributed to his personality, artistry, and affability.

"His soul is a prism through which shines the genius of a race," is what Redfern Mason wrote of him. There probably have been more poetic utterances written in praise of Toscha Seidel by music critics than of most other artists appearing before the public today.

Among the outstanding numbers played before the large audience were: Romance in F Major; Opus 50, by Beethoven; Allegretto-Bourne, by Kreisler; and Concerto in E Minor by Mendelssohn. Hubbard Jaffe, Seidel's accompanist, also presented a short recital, playing: Rhapsody-Opus No. 2, by Brahms; Claire de Lune, by Debussy; Two Spanish dances, and several other numbers.

Artist Will Be Accompanied by John S. Richardson at Piano

Miss Hopple's appearance on the series last year was so successful that she was asked to return again this season. She will be assisted at the piano by John Shelby Richardson of Lexington.

Born in Pennsylvania, and receiving her early musical education in that state, Mary Hopple owes her discovery as a talented artist to the distinguished opera star, Ernestine Schumann-Heink, whose frank commendation of her work inspired her to take her singing seriously and make it her career.

Miss Hopple's striking appearance has won favor of the artists both of the brush and the camera and she has often been asked to pose. A live vibrant personality is back of the beautiful contralto voice and the pleasure of seeing the young singer always enhances the pleasure of hearing her concerts.

VARSITY OPENS AGAINST ALUMNI MONDAY NIGHT

All Basketball Regulars in Good Shape Except Tucker

KITTENS WILL PLAY PRELIMINARY TILT

Lawrence, Ellington, Lewis, Edwards and Donahue Will Start

Ring up the curtain on the local basketball season. Coach Adolph Rupp's varsity eagles will make their debut against a strong Alumni quintet Monday night in Alumni gym. Coach McBrayer's freshman team will play at 7:30 o'clock in the preliminary.

With nine forwards, nine guards and three centers, Coach Rupp faces a difficult task in selecting a starting combination. For the last three days, the squad has been sent through long scrimmage sessions in an effort to allow the men to prove their worth in competition. Coach Rupp is satisfied that the whole team with the exception of Jack Tucker, injured co-captain, is in good shape.

Five members of the Wildcat football team reported for practice on Tuesday, including "Andy" Anderson, Jim Goforth, Sam Potter, Bert Johnson, and Jack Farris. Potter has been slowed up a little by a bad leg, but Anderson and Goforth will likely see quite a bit of action against the Alumni.

The probable starting lineup of the Wildcats is the combination that has been working as a "first" unit, with co-captain Dave Lawrence and Garland Lewis at the forwards; Edwards, center; Donahue and Ellington, in the backcourt. Donahue, Edwards, and Ellington are the products of last year's undefeated freshman team.

Among the other players who are sure to see action Monday night are Ralph Carlisle, Harry Buss, Charlie Gates, Bob Taylor, Charlie Heinrich and Bruce Davis in the forward berths, and Anderson, Goforth, Terney, Potter, Johnson, Athlison, and Farris. Jack Tucker may not be able to perform because of an injured foot.

The starting lineup of the Alumni team has not yet been announced but several former "Cat brunns" will be seen in action. Among those who will probably be on the Alumni roster are "Aggie" Saie, now coach at Kavanaugh high school; John "Frenchy" DeMoisey, Grayson high school coach; Carey Spicer, "Little" McDunn, Jake Bronston, Bill Kleiser, Darrel Lary, and Bill Trout, and Paul McBrayer, present freshman coach.

PUBLICITY MEET

The staff of the Kernel welcomes the members of the American College Publicity association with the knowledge that they are men and women performing vital services for their respective institutions. The old "mouse-trap" axiom can certainly not be applied to the modern college as far as publicity is concerned. The paths today are "beaten" to those institutions that make themselves known.

College publicity directors are not "space-grabbers" in the usual sense of the term. Good college newspaper publicity is informative and is welcomed by all enlightened newspaper editors. Few colleges operate for profits. Instead, their sole purpose is one of service. Information regarding such an ideal should not be confused with publicity put out for the purpose of enriching an individual or corporation.

Student promotional activities are often carried on through the college publicity offices. Letters from prospective students requesting literature, pennants, University songs, are usually referred to such offices. Appearances of speakers and musical groups before high school assemblies and other groups must be arranged. Display advertisements are prepared in the publicity offices. This, however, is only one phase of the work of the college publicity bureau.

JOTTINGS

All students of the University are receiving notices to report to the dispensary. There they will be subjected to tests for tuberculosis. These examinations are being conducted for the good of the students but they are not compulsory. No charge is made, yet perhaps an invaluable service is performed.

Recent investigations show that there is more tuberculosis among college students than any other group. Why they should be more susceptible to the disease than others we cannot say. That we all ought to take advantage of the testing we do not doubt. If we are not tubercular, fine; if some such symptoms do appear, it is best that we are informed.

Under the direction of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, the long awaited and sorely needed street is being constructed from Graham avenue to the McVey hall driveway. With the completion of this cut-off, much time will be saved and parking of automobiles facilitated. Another improvement, which would aid in preventing possible accidents and shattered nerves, would be a sidewalk running parallel with the driveway. At present, there is constant danger for the pedestrian in that area. Must we wait until someone is killed or injured before precautions are taken?

As the seasons change, so do sports. Football has given way to basketball, another excellent game, not as rough, but scientific, calling for speed, accuracy, stamina. Kentucky and football have not fared well; basketball teams developed at this University have, almost without fail, been champions. It is our duty to do more than watch them win; let's get out there and help them!

Three months of school have slipped by; less than two months of this semester remain. Is it too early for graduating seniors to begin looking for jobs? No, the wise student is the one who early takes steps to find employment. Nowadays, one has to work harder to get a job than to hold it.

As is evidenced by complaints and complaints, opinions of students, alumni, and faculty, which directly or indirectly have reached the Kernel office, and the new interest that is being manifested in local, national, and international affairs, we are convinced that the "thinking" people actually are beginning to think. It is our sincere hope that they continue expressing their views, and we shall welcome any communication, on any topic, that may come to our attention.

"MUD-WUMPS"

For the last "umpteenth" years editorial after editorial, feature story after feature story, and letter after letter have been run in various issues of the Kernel complaining of the impracticability and clothes-damaging features of our gravel walks in wet weather. What has been done about it? So far, absolutely nothing.

The fine rock screening spread on the gravel paths over the campus becomes a penetrating and cloth-ruining slush after 15 minutes of rain. Not only do these walks ruin students' clothes, but they also deteriorate during a heavy rain to such a degree that continually more gravel has to be spread on the paths by the University's staff of caretakers.

We realize that such a walk is somewhat cheaper to lay than either the concrete or asphalt paths making up the balance of the walks over the campus, but is this type of surface more economical to maintain over a long period of time? Perhaps it is, but even so, the students deserve some consideration. Not only is this walk impractical from the student's viewpoint, but also from the standpoint of the appearance of the campus in general.

al. After a rain, the walks present an unpleasant sight to the visitor's eye with their run-down appearance and soft, watery surfaces. We earnestly hope that some day our constant pleadings may be heard and something done about the matter—at which time we will retaliate with such a celebration as was never accorded any other hero.

WILL YOU FIGHT?

Would you bear arms for the United States in the invasion of the borders of another country?

Immediately following the war of 1914, a wave of pacifism swept the world. It hit continental Europe but affected the citizens of the United States more than any other country.

Failure of diplomats and governmental officials to justify the participation of this country in the war which they had so strongly urged was the essential reason. To the question, "What had been gained?" they could answer only "Nothing." And what was the loss? In human lives it was hundreds of thousands. In dollars and cents, it cannot be figured.

The position of this rising power—this power which espoused the Monroe Doctrine—was thrown backward in world affairs—just as the social, political, and economic life of any offensive country has been retarded by aggression.

Should it happen again? Should the military forces invade foreign borders in a hopeless and losing struggle? Such aggression can be stopped.

As long as great capitalists control big investments abroad, there is a hazard awaiting the American youth who knows no better than to fight. College graduates are facing today the tragic reality of unemployment—because the World War destroyed all economic equilibrium for this and the next generation. This generation of college students should lead the way for the next—so tragedy won't stalk its commencement.

Refuse to fight a war of aggression.

Dr. C. D. Caywood, Fayette county health officer, has given a report on the alarming headway made by the disease in this county. According to him, Kentucky is second highest in death rate, due to tuberculosis. Fayette county has the highest percentage of any county in Kentucky. Tennessee has the highest death rate in the nation.

According to a recent survey of the Fayette county schools, 256 of the 1,716 children tested showed a positive reaction. If these children are treated soon enough there is a great chance that practically all will recover. It is for this treatment that Christmas seals are sold every year, allowing thousands of cases to be treated, and the disease held in check.
